Your Eminence:

The Armenian Art and Culture Society of San Diego is presently preparing a project which will donate fifty books to a college or public library in the greater San Diego area. Our purpose is to share our Armenian heritage, from ancient times to the present, with fellow Americans.

To ensure a well-balanced representation of available publications, we are kindly requesting that you and nineteen other colleagues in the academic, media, political, and cultural fields assist us in this task.

The books should reflect a cross-section of academic disciplines, e.g. history, literature, poetry, religion, art, etc., which relate the story and achievements of our Armenian civilization. One book title, for example may include three volumes of works by the same author or authors.

Realizing that your personal and professional obligations are many, especially during this holiday season, we ask that a special effort be made to participate in this adventure. Why not create a "Great Books of the Armenian Civilization" series? We must not depend upon others to tell the Armenian story.

Please mail your book list selections to:

Jack Bournazian, Co-Chairman
