Dear Mr. Mgrdechian:

I delayed responding to your letter of July 17 because we were in the process of preparing a bulletin concerning the stewardship program, and the number enrolled to date by each parish. This will be going out in the next few days.

It is difficult for me to provide you with a list of the stewards thus far enrolled, since they are on cards. But lists have been published in the Armenian Church and these may be consulted for your purpose.

One thing must be kept in mind however. Because a steward happens to be a member of your parish does not automatically credit him to your quota. He may very well have been enrolled through the efforts of someone else. I myself have enrolled a dozen or so of my friends who will not be credited to any parish whatever.

If members of your parish have become stewards, you may take credit for them unless they are otherwise assigned. Furthermore, you may yourself enroll anyone as a steward, irrespective of where he lives or which church he attends.

Sincerely,

Jack Antreassian
Executive Director
