Dear Friend:

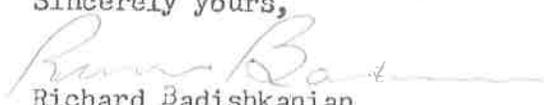

St. Mary Armenian Church of Livingston, New Jersey is now in the process of restoration and in the near future will celebrate its consecration. The tragedy that befell our community on March 26, 1980, when our church was completely destroyed by arson is being restored after many long months of hard work and determination. The success of our restoration efforts will soon be seen in our new church complex.

On Sunday December 6, 1981, the new St. Mary Armenian Church will be consecrated by His Eminence Archbishop Torkom Manoogian, Primate, assisted by our Pastor, Very Reverend Father Houssig Bagdasian and other guest clergy from surrounding communities.

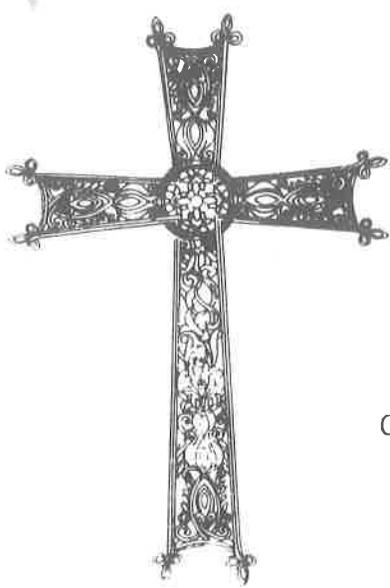

A consecration booklet will be published to commemorate this joyous occasion and once again we are confident of your cooperation. Your participation in sponsoring a page, donation, or In Memorium will give us not only the financial aid, but more importantly, the moral support most needed at this time. For your convenience we are enclosing a contract and return envelope.

We thank you for your assistance and generosity.

Sincerely yours,

Richard Badishkanian
Chairman
Consecration Committee
