

Report of Progress
Joint Hartford--New Britain Church
Building Committee

On March 17, 1968, both the New Britain and Hartford Parishes met separately to vote on the forming of a committee to look into the feasibility of merging the Hartford and New Britain Churches at a central location.

The vote at both Parishes were favorable to the formation of this committee.

The effort in New Britain was undertaken by Steve DerMargosian's committee which was already engaged in a study for a new church site.

The effort in Hartford never got underway since their Parish Council was not able to form a committee.

Last April your Parish Council advised Steve DerMargosian to proceed without Hartford on our own local effort.

Communication with the Hartford Parish Council Chairman in December showed no change in status--they have not formed a committee.

Your Parish Council therefore has no alternative but to recommed the joint church venture with Hartford be abandoned.
