

ARMENIAN CHURCH CHOIR - ANNUAL REPORT 1981/1982

The year 1981 was a good one for the Choir, although we bid farewell to our ex-choir director, Alfred Yeznaian at a lovely though emotional outdoor luncheon, we were most fortunate in obtaining the services of our new choir director, Raffi Sevadjan, to whom we extend a hearty welcome.

Under Raffi's direction the choir attracted new members and developed vocally to now render the service in two-part harmony with the prospect of four-part harmony by the end of 1982.

The choir has regular rehearsals after services in order to learn new songs and refine traditional ones. The Executive Committee elected in September, 1980 served throughout the year 1981:

John M. Wolohojian	- Choir Chairman
Khoren Tutak	- Vice Chairman
Lucy Tepikian	- Corres. Secretary
Lucine Wolohojian	- Recording Secretary
John Vakassian	- Treasurer

There are at present sixteen members in the choir, in addition to our talented and dedicated organist, Alice Sakalian and the Choir Director, Raffi Sevadjan. We, also, have at present time three deacons: John Vakassian, Khoren Tutak and Mark Kapikian. Our most recent welcomed addition is Avedis Tutak, Alter Server.

During the year, the choir had two Bake Sales and hosted a Lenten Dinner.

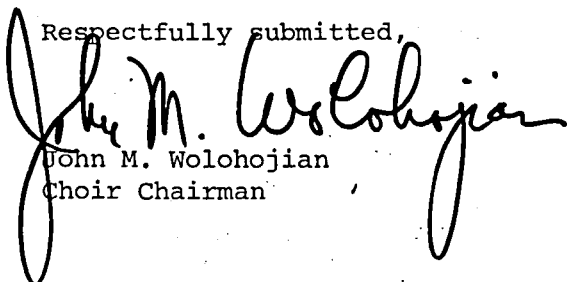

The choir again participated in the Annual Assembly of the Association of the Armenian Church Choir of America. We were represented by Der Hayr Karekin Kasparian, Raffi Sevadjan, Mark and Helen Kapikian. The Assembly was held in Cambridge, Massachusetts.
