

Holy Ascension Armenian Church Choir Report 1985

Our Choir, although small, is dedicated to try to make our Church services as beautiful as it can be. We would prefer to have more choir members. As such, I invite all parishioners, young and old to join us in the celebration of the Badarak.

Attend the practices. Join us during the services. Help us make the Armenian church services the most beautiful of all christian services.

We are indeed fortunate to have three excellent Deacons on our Altars: Vrej Yapoujian, Tom Dabaghian and Tom Garabedian. Der Hayr is presently working with several young men and teaching them the duties of Acolytes.

I said our choir is small but dedicated. I thank each and every choir member who have added their voices on many Sundays throughout the year. However, special note is made of two people who have contributed more than one hundred percent of their time and talent.

Peter Kapusuzian - has led the choir many ways for many years. Vocally as both soloist and choir director, his leadership and dedication is inspirational.

Virginia Kalfaian - as organist has that special quality that gives the choir confidence. She helps in many ways, but her serenity and calm make us a better group.

I cannot close without thanking each of you for your support. Throughout the year you have supported us in many ways: Financially, morally and spiritually, and we thank you much for that.

Respectfully submitted
