1990 PARISH COUNCIL REPORT

As we begin a New Year, there are many things that we have to look back on. Our Deacon Serop Aljalian who chose our parish over the many others who also wanted him, inspired us and taught us through his many services he celebrated. With his guidance, this parish still stands strong and will continue to as long as we hold true to our faith.

Our Women's Guild which we should all be proud of, has also continued to be another reason why this parish still stands strong in the community. With the many hours of service that they voluntarily gave of themselves so that all of us could continue to enjoy the blessings of their effort, we are eternally grateful.

To our altar servers, who continue to faithfully serve this church during services, no other words can describe your true dedication to this church than these: "without you, we would not have such a wonderful service."

Along with every church service, there has to be a choir. I cannot give enough thanks to you who have continued in this capacity and can only hope and pray that others who are blessed to have that ability join our choir.

As with all Armenian churches, ours is fortunate to have an ACYOA. Though small in size, they also have continued to participate in the Armenian church. In addition, they have continued to help this church during many social functions that would not have been successful unless they were there.

The parishoners of Holy Resurrection Armenian Church can be proud of all the things that are mentioned in this report. To add to this list is the "Private Cemetery". No other Armenian Church in the United States can be as proud as we are to have a one-of-a-kind. Along with the Cemetery comes the workers who have given their time to maintain an area of land for our beloved ones and friends to rest peacefully.

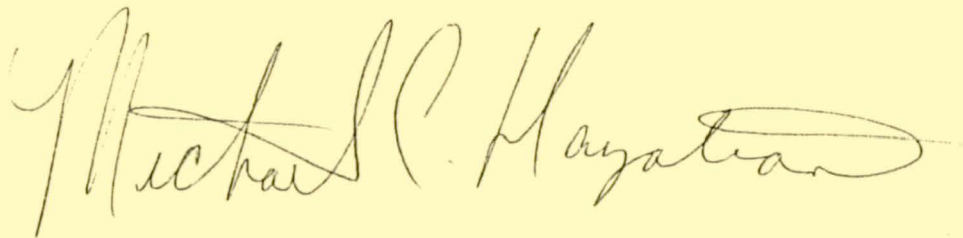

As with any Church, there has to be a group of members who help guide it in a right direction. This being my first year, as Parish Council Chairman, I have been honored to serve you and work with you. It is my sincerest desire to see this Parish Council continue in this direction that ensures the future of this Church.

This past year has been a learning experience for all of us on the Parish Council, and it has taught us many things. With the input of our Diocesan delegate and the many other parishoner's who also have many years of experience, this church is in a strong position to face the challenges of the future.

One important step to face this challenge is through communication. Our KEGHART is a great example of what a Church paper should be and our parishoner's should be proud of the efforts put forth by our editor.

Another important step was the continuing support of Fr. Garabed Kochakian in performing Holy Badarak, Baptism and Funeral services in our Church.

Finally, the biggest challenge of all lies within ourselves to continue to support the Church by attending its services and participating in its functions. If we are to continue, we all must join together, dedicate ourselves to meet the responsibilities as members of this Church.

WOMEN'S GUILD

Under the support and direction of Deacon Serop Aljalian, the Holy Resurrection Women's Guild hosted a number of special activities in 1990.

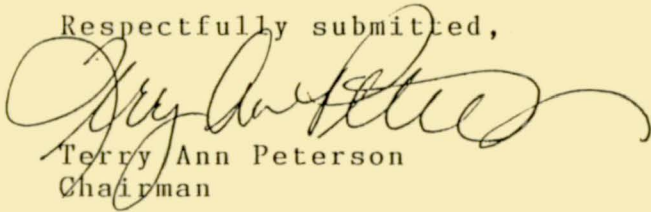

On March 17, 1990, the Guild sponsored the regional Women's Saints Day celebration at Holy Resurrection. Parishioners and friends from around the area took part in commemorating this special day.

In special observance of the Armenian Martyrs, the Guild prepared a dinner in April. Our parishioners were joined by several elected dignitaries, area clergy and friends from the area.

The Guild was very involved with the Food Fest throughout the summer.

Special thanks to all those who volunteered their time and to Deacon Serop for his assistance.

Respectfully submitted,
