

DR. JOHN V. BASMAJIAN, professor of anatomy and rehabilitation medicine at Emory University in Georgia, demonstrates new portable biofeedback device, of which he is the principal inventor and developer, for use by handicapped patients to help them "turn on" paralyzed muscles.