Dear Hayr Soorp:

I had called you a week ago and then yesterday in regards to a visitation to your Church School, but was unable to speak with you. Your secretary informed me that you were on holiday. I hope you enjoyed it.

We were very happy to have Alis Kuyumjian in our teacher training group this summer. She seemed to be enthusiastic about this coming school year.

I intend to be in Toronto the latter part of the month of November to attend the convention of the Religious Education Association with Elise Antreassian. We will be very honored if you could take time from your busy schedule and attend the Conference with us. The Conference begins at noon on Sunday November 25, 1979 and lasts until Tuesday. The theme is entirely devoted to "The Child". Enclosed is some descriptive literature.

Taking advantage of this trip I would like to plan a visitation with your Church School teachers which I had been intending to do for some time. Main concerns would be to discuss their progress and also deal with areas that need attention. If possible, it would be desirable to make time for individual teacher consultations in order to meet specific needs that they may have.

If it is agreeable with you and your teachers, I can plan to arrive in Toronto Friday, so that we can meet Friday evening. Saturday could be devoted to individual teacher consultations entirely, and Sunday morning could be spent visiting classes in session. I will be calling you sometime next week to discuss the details with you.

I am also trying to make arrangements to meet with Father Kegham Zakarian and the St. Catharines and Hamilton parish teachers following the convention. I will keep you posted on the final arrangements. Thank you for your attention Hayr Soorp.

Yours in Christ,

Sirarpi Feredjian
